Saigon Awaits Visit by Pair Of U.S. Envoys

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Saigon officials are awaiting with rising interest the arrival Saturday of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman. There was a hint they would attempt to still misgivings in the South Vietnamese government about President Johnson's peace efforts.

With the fighting continuing in a low key, U. S. officials in Washington were keeping a careful watch for evidence that the Communists were deliberately scaling down their military operations. But sources in Washington said the North Vietnamese are using the suspension of U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam to rebuild railroad lines and bridges between Hanoi and Red China which U. S. bombers had destroyed.

The bombing lull began its third week today.

Secretary of State Rusk flew from New Delhi to Bangkok to meet Harriman, who has carried President Johnson's peace message to half a dozen foreign capitals. Rusk and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey met with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Thursday and Viet Nam presumably dominated the conversation. All were in the Indian capital for the funeral of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Saigon said Rusk and Harriman would fly to Saigon for talks with South Vietnamese leaders. He declined to speculate on the purpose of the trip but indicated it was connected with the Viet Nam policy outlined by the President in his State of the Union message Wednesday night. Johnson pledged to continue the defense of South Viet Nam but stated anew his willingness to discuss peace.

2 Big Firms Rap Excise Tax Return

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's two biggest corporations, General Motors and American Telephone & Telegraph, expressed displeasure today with President Johnson's proposal to restore excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service.

GM said restoration would be "unfortunate." AT&T said it "regretted" the President's proposal but recognized the nation's need for additional revenues.

James M. Roche, president of General Motors Corp., termed the proposal to restore the level of auto excise taxes "very unfortunate."

But Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., said he interpreted the President's recommendation as a return to the 7 per cent excise tax level from the present 6 per cent level that became effective with the new year.

Ford indicated he was not opposed to such a step.

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said the firm regretted the President's proposals, but added: "It should be pointed out that telephone service would be the only utility so taxed. However we fully recognize our country's needs for added revenues at this critical time and some of the problems involved in recommending appropriate legislation."

Commenting on President Johnson's remarks that federal funds should be used to end pollution, Dr. Offutt said: "This kind of help is particularly needed in small towns and communities which do not have enough money to build water pollution plants."

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

Capt. John E. Hankins, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, told this sequence of events:

First hint of the kidnap came three weeks ago in connection with a burglary that took place in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles police. Ten days ago the tipster disclosed that the intended victim was Firestone, the handsome son of rubber empire founder Harvey S. Firestone.

Hankins advised him to leave his home on Alpine Drive, a tree-shaded street where millionaires live amid movie stars.

Police officers moved in, along with a policewoman who posed as a domestic to answer the door and phone.

At 6 o'clock Thursday evening the telephone rang. The police

Transit Pact Rapped by LBJ

President Labels Deal Inflationary

NEW YORK (AP) — The wage package that got New York's transit system back on the track is described by President Johnson as inflationary, but Mayor John V. Lindsay says settlement of the strike was in the public interest.

Johnson criticized the settlement as exceeding the voluntary national wage-price guidelines recommended by government economic advisers to prevent an inflationary spiral.

"I do not believe that any settlement that violates the guidelines to this extent is in the national interest," he said at a news conference Thursday in Washington.

The government guideline on wages — and prices of 3.2 per cent — Federal government sources said the cost of the transit settlement, estimated at between $52 and $7 million over two years, was 4.5 to 4.6 per cent a year.

Mayor Lindsay—the man who had been in the middle during the 12-day bus and subway strike that ended Thursday—saw things differently, however.

"I suppose people will argue and debate as to whether the settlement was too high or too low," Lindsay said even before Johnson spoke. "The agreement was best for the workers, the Transit Authority, the city and the country."

He said it "obviously serves the public interest."

Then, in response to Johnson's denunciation of the contract terms, Lindsay issued this statement:

"The chairman of the mediation panel, Dr. Nathan Feinsinger, prepared a memorandum at the time the panel recommended the settlement to the parties. The memorandum stated the settlement was within the guidelines."

"Under all the circumstances, the mediation panel having arrived at a firm recommendation, and the chairman having stated that it was within the guidelines, the Transit Authority had no choice but to accept."

Rio Disaster Death Total Reaches 355

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The death toll in the Rio de Janeiro disaster climbed to 355 today and many more bodies were believed buried in the mud and debris left in the wake of the worst rains in the city's 400-year history.

A total of 185 deaths were confirmed in the city and another 170 in Rio de Janeiro state, including 100 in the mountain resort of Petropolis, 26 miles north of the city.

Many more were feared dead in isolated areas.

Doctors and attendants at the city morgue worked around the clock trying to identify bodies brought in.

"Most were suffocated in landslides," said Dr. Ivan Ferreira. "Many had broken spines and legs."

"The children were the hardest hit. The little ones drowned in as little as a few centimeters of water. Others were unable to withstand even minor slides and were dragged away."

Most of the dead came from the favela shantytowns on Rio's hillsides. They were brought in by the truckload. Hampered by frequent power failures, doctors performed autopsies on each body.

Many families did not have the money to buy coffins or pay for burial. Radio and television stations broadcast frequent appeals to undertakers for donations of coffins and asked cemetery officials to waive burial fees for the poor.

Laymen Are Added To Catholic Panel

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time in the history of the Cleveland Roman Catholic Diocese, laymen have been appointed to the diocese Board of Education.

One of the four members appointed Thursday by Coadjutor Bishop Clarence G. Isenmann included a Negro physician, Dr. Cornelius Welch of Cleveland.

The other laymen appointees are Dr. Frank Recker, Stow; Richard Horan, Elyria; and Mrs. William F. Procop, Cleveland.

Other appointments include two nuns, a brother and a Jesuit priest, increasing membership from 12 to 20 members.

The suit was directed against the conservancy district, County Auditor Fred J. Morr and County Treasurer Robert Jacobs.

The district covers five counties—Hamilton, Clermont, Warren, Clinton and Greene.

The tax has already been halted in Clinton County pending outcome of a suit filed there by David Myers, a Wilmington News Journal reporter. The other counties also have halted collection until the outcome of Myers' suit.

Hamilton had been the only county to actually impose the assessment.

Rueger said his suit will contend that collection of the tax in Hamilton County is inequitable because the law requires the tax to be collected throughout the five counties.

LBJ Sees Little Gripe To Restoring Taxes

Withholding Computation May Be Chore

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average wage-earner may find that computing his weekly withholding under a new administration proposal is tougher than making out his annual income tax return.

In announcing the six-step withholding plan Thursday, the U.S. Treasury showed only how it would affect taxpayers at certain levels — and the figures were based on annual salaries.

Here is the way a taxpayer earning $100 a week could figure his withholding under the present plan:

If he is married (there is a different computation for single men) and has two dependent children, he would subtract $52 ($13 for each income tax exemption) and multiply the remainder—$48—by 14 per cent. This comes to $6.72.

(The actual amount withheld may be a few cents higher or lower because his employer uses a table with prescribed ranges—for instance, the range may be $95 to $100 a week.)

(There will be new tables for employers if the administration plan is approved by Congress.)

Under the new plan, the man cited in the example would subtract $13.50 for each dependent, or $54, and then subtract an additional $4.

This would leave $42. For purposes of simplification, this can be called taxable income.

On the first $19.62 of taxable income, the withholding rate is 14 per cent. This comes to $2.69.

On the remaining $22.77 of taxable income, he would apply a 15 per cent rate. This comes to about $3.42.

Then, adding $2.69 and $3.42, he would get his weekly withholding—$6.11 as compared with $6.72 under the present plan.

Most taxpayers above this level will pay about the same or higher withholding. The scale runs up to 30 per cent.

Judge Bans Assessment Collections

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge John M. Renner issued a temporary injunction today to halt collection of a special tax assessment in Hamilton County for the Little Miami River Conservancy District.

The assessment affects residents in the eastern part of the county and is for 30 cents on each $1,000 property valuation.

The injunction was issued in a suit filed by Prosecutor Melvin Rueger. He also sought a permanent injunction and a hearing will be held some time next week on whether it should be granted.

The suit was directed against the conservancy district, County Auditor Fred J. Morr and County Treasurer Robert Jacobs.

Reds Rebuilding During Bomb Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Vietnamese are using the bombing lull to rebuild railroad lines and bridges over which war gear has flowed from Red China, it was learned today.

Aerial reconnaissance indicates that the Reds are giving priority in reconstruction to rail links reaching northwest and northeast from Hanoi into Communist China.

These rail lines and bridges were pounded heavily by U.S. fighter bombers for about three or four months before the strikes were halted three weeks ago.

The northwest line had been pretty well knocked out and the northeast leg nearly so, sources said.

Now, the Reds are working hard to repair those lines and bridges while they are free of attack.

Another area where communication lines are being rebuilt lies above the demarcation border separating Communist North Viet Nam from South Viet Nam.

There was no clear explanation as to why this sector should be getting priority attention in repair work.

But it was suggested the Communists may be trying to get this route back in shape to reduce reliance on certain roads passing through Laotian territory being worked over by U.S. warplanes.

High Court Gets Brief For Dr. Sam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court has received a brief in which counsel for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard expounded the 11½-year-old contentions the judge and news media prevented a fair trial when he was convicted in Cleveland, Ohio, of murder.

The brief was submitted Thursday preliminary to the hearing of arguments, date to be set later, on Sheppard's appeal from his second-degree murder conviction in the July 4, 1954, death of his pregnant wife Marilyn.

The brief concludes with a request that the high tribunal order that Sheppard remain out of prison "unless and until" the state of Ohio elects, with 60 days, to retry him. The former osteopath has been living in the Cleveland suburb of Rocky River—with a new wife—since released as a result of court proceedings in Cincinnati in 1964.

Astronauts Visit Columbus Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Astronauts Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and L. Gordon Cooper made one of their low-level flights Thursday, by private plane to Columbus to make a progress check of a lunar spacecraft simulator.

Cooper said he and Grissom were inspecting the simulator being built at the North American Aviation, Inc., plant, but that this didn't necessarily mean they would be the ones to make the first moon flight or succeeding ones.

"No team has yet been chosen to make the actual trip" which is still a few years off, Cooper said.

Domer Forgery Trial Delayed Indefinitely

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The forgery trial of Robert K. Domer, former investment broker, accused of murdering an Akron fruit peddler, has been indefinitely postponed.

Stark County Common Pleas Judge William A. Morris postponed the trial which was set for Monday. Domer is facing retrial Feb. 14 for first-degree murder in the 1963 death of Howard K. Riddle.

Funds Needed In Viet Effort

Collection Speed-up Also To Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House Thursday.

He said he believed that "most of the people are patriotic" and would be willing to give up reductions in the taxes, which took effect Jan. 1, to finance additional military costs stemming from the Viet Nam war.

Besides rescinding the two excise tax reductions, the administration's tax package includes a speed-up in corporate tax collections and a graduated withholding plan under which taxpayers in higher brackets would pay more as they go along and less at the end of the year.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler formally submitted the tax package to Congress Thursday night and estimated additional revenues from it at $4.8 billion in the fiscal year which starts July 1. Hearings on it will begin next week before the House Ways and Means Committee with Fowler as the first witness.

Nasty Weather Hits Much of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, rain and sleet fell across scattered sections of the nation today but no severe storms were reported.

The storm in the Midwest which dumped more than a foot of snow in parts of Wisconsin and northern Illinois, weakened as it moved into the Northeast. However, fairly heavy amounts were reported in some areas, including three inches at Buffalo and Syracuse, N.Y.

A mixture of snow, sleet and freezing rain hit areas in high elevations of the Appalachians of Pennsylvania and the Virginias. Rain extended southward to the middle and western Gulf coasts.

comment about a decline in Viet Cong activity, that there were 970 Viet Cong incidents in the week of Jan. 2 to 8. In the previous week there were 1,130 incidents initiated by the Viet Cong.

There was thus a drop of 160 incidents in the first week of January as compared with the last week of December, but the level for the first week in January was still above the weekly average of 850 incidents for the last quarter of 1965.

As used by U.S. civilian and military authorities, the word "incident" embraces all kinds of Viet Cong actions from random outbursts of firing or a raid on a peasant family to actual military attacks.

Officials here said that in the first week of January there were 17 military attacks by the Viet Cong but all were below battalion strength. In the last week of December there were 25 military attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese forces including three of battalion size.

So far as Washington authorities could determine, the level of Viet Cong activity is following this week about the same pattern which it followed last week. But officials said there could be many reasons for this and that there was no real basis yet for attaching serious importance to it as a reaction to Johnson's peace campaign.

Cong Activity Is on Decline

But Accidents Plague GIs in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong activity continued on a reduced scale today. Mishaps dogged American forces, but the South Vietnamese reported some successes.

Government militiamen killed 40 Communists in beating off an attack on an outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, scene of repeated Communist thrusts.

Casualties among the 100 defenders were reported light.

Two U.S. planes — a two-engine C123 flare ship and an Air Force single-seat Skyraider — collided in the air on an operation in support of Korean ground troops 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on the central coast. All seven men on board were killed.

The Skyraider crashed into the bigger plane from underneath after pulling out of a strike, a spokesman said.

In the Da Nang area, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, two U.S. Marine jets called in by a forward air controller sank four sampans manned by government militiamen in the Thin Yen River, 20 miles southwest of Da Nang, after being told they were carrying Viet Cong.

Four civilians on the river bank were killed and 16 civilians and five militiamen were wounded. The Marines accepted full responsibility for the mistake, a spokesman said.

Sixteen Marines were injured, two seriously, when a mortar exploded during a training class at the Chu Lai beachhead 53 miles down the coast.

But nearby a Marine rifle patrol killed at least four Viet Cong and seized four 60MM mortars with shells in overrunning Viet Cong mortar positions 150 yards from the Leathernecks' forward lines. The casualties raised the Communist toll after four days of Operation Mallard to 18 dead. The Marines also captured 16½ tons of rice.

Viet Cong gunners forced down a Marine helicopter on a flight from Tam Ky to Da Nang, injuring one passenger, and an unidentified assailant shot and wounded the Tam Ky district pacification chief.

The guerrillas also ambushed a U.S. jeep on main Highway 1 six miles south of Da Nang Thursday night, inflicting casualties among U.S. and Australian advisers in the vehicle. The guerrillas fled before a Marine patrol arrived.

New Water Pollution Standards Predicted

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. A.C. Offutt, chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, says new standards to further stop water pollution in the valley may be put into use this spring.

"This kind of help is particularly needed in small towns and communities which do not have enough money to build water pollution plants."

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

Funds Needed In Viet Effort

Collection Speed-up Also To Be Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House Thursday.

He said he believed that "most of the people are patriotic" and would be willing to give up reductions in the taxes, which took effect Jan. 1, to finance additional military costs stemming from the Viet Nam war.

Besides rescinding the two excise tax reductions, the administration's tax package includes a speed-up in corporate tax collections and a graduated withholding plan under which taxpayers in higher brackets would pay more as they go along and less at the end of the year.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler formally submitted the tax package to Congress Thursday night and estimated additional revenues from it at $4.8 billion in the fiscal year which starts July 1. Hearings on it will begin next week before the House Ways and Means Committee with Fowler as the first witness.

Nasty Weather Hits Much of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Snow, rain and sleet fell across scattered sections of the nation today but no severe storms were reported.

The storm in the Midwest which dumped more than a foot of snow in parts of Wisconsin and northern Illinois, weakened as it moved into the Northeast. However, fairly heavy amounts were reported in some areas, including three inches at Buffalo and Syracuse, N.Y.

A mixture of snow, sleet and freezing rain hit areas in high elevations of the Appalachians of Pennsylvania and the Virginias. Rain extended southward to the middle and western Gulf coasts.

Signs of Scaling Down Of Red Viet Action Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are keeping a careful watch on Communist military operations in Viet Nam for any evidence of a possibly deliberate scaling down of activities.

President Johnson said Thursday "it is a fact" that the number of incidents initiated by the Viet Cong forces in recent days had decreased but he was unable to say whether the decrease was prompted by his peace efforts.

Johnson had promised in his State of the Union message Wednesday night that "we will respond if others reduce their use of force."

The decrease in Viet Cong activity which he mentioned Thursday began more than a week before the President spoke and administration officials were by no means certain that it had any political significance at all. Should it prove to have such meaning it evidently would be interpreted here to indicate a Viet Cong reaction to Johnson's earlier suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam targets.

The President also said Thursday in a news conference that he will continue to send special peace envoys to the capitals of other nations and that he will go on seeking peace "as long as I am President."

Administration officials reported, following the President's comment about a decline in Viet Cong activity, that there were 970 Viet Cong incidents in the week of Jan. 2 to 8. In the previous week there were 1,130 incidents initiated by the Viet Cong.

There was thus a drop of 160 incidents in the first week of January, as compared with the last week of December, but the level for the first week in January was still above the weekly average of 850 incidents for the last quarter of 1965.

As used by U.S. civilian and military authorities, the word "incident" embraces all kinds of Viet Cong actions from random outbursts of firing or a raid on a peasant family to actual military attacks.

Officials here said that in the first week of January there were 17 military attacks by the Viet Cong but all were below battalion strength. In the last week of December there were 25 military attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese forces including three of battalion size.

So far as Washington authorities could determine, the level of Viet Cong activity is following this week about the same pattern which it followed last week. But officials said there could be many reasons for this and that there was no real basis yet for attaching serious importance to it as a reaction to Johnson's peace campaign.

not report any meetings between Shelepin and top Chinese officials, although Shelepin is the highest-ranking Soviet to visit Peking since Kossygin's similar stopover last February. He attended an acrobatic show Thursday night, Tass said.

Peking Radio, commenting on President Johnson's statements Wednesday about Viet Nam, said the speech showed "clearly that the U.S. government's peace offensive is nothing but a smokescreen to cover up its scheme for a wider war." The official New China news agency called Johnson's campaign "war blackmail" but reported without comment his offer to respond in kind if the Communists reduce their use of force in Viet Nam.

Moscow Radio repeated that the Soviet Union is taking all measures to shop modern weapons to the North Vietnamese to help them defeat the Americans. But diplomatic sources in Moscow said such assistance did not preclude the possibility Shelepin may have tried to steer President Ho Chi Minh to the conference table.

16 Nations Send Youths To Study Skills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chin Suk Yang of Korea, Muhamed Mamser of Jordan, Dickson Rodriguez of Peru built roads, dug irrigation ditches and hauled fish nets in New Mexico last fall.

They got up early each morning, worked hard all day in the rugged Mila Mountain wilderness, then swapped yarns and folk songs around a camp fire at night.

In all, 24 young men from 16 nations took part in the three-month course to prepare them as leaders of national youth service corps along the lines of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

They learned basic construction skills, physical education techniques, but, most important of all, developed the self confidence to lead others.

The international youth leadership training course was conducted by Sports International and Youth Development a private, non-profit service organization, and financed by the federal Agency for International Development.

A second course will start in mid-February in Puerto Rico. This time 30 young men from 20 nations will take part.

This could be described as a sort of Peace Corps in reverse. Many of the key men running it saw duty with the U.S. Peace Corps, either as staff members or as volunteers.

Dr. David Dichter, former Peace Corps Washington staffer and sports buff, began the organization in 1962 as Sports International. Its first projects were exchanges of athletes and coaches in many sports, involving many nations.

The plan calls for the young men to return to their homes and help organize national youth service corps or work projects capable of involving thousands of young men.

Starting last September, the 24 young men spent 10 weeks at Camp Thunderbird in southwestern New Mexico. The program was conducted by Western New Mexico University, with special instructors including forest rangers, soil conservation experts, forestry experts, adult literacy authorities, biologists and a variety of other experts.

U.S., Soviet Diplomacy Enrages Red China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Red China's leadership is reacting with rage to American and Soviet diplomatic maneuvers, as if gripped by a major peace scare.

Evidently Peking dismisses as empty propaganda the suggestions from Soviet bloc Communists that if the United States intensifies the war in Viet Nam, the Soviet Union will introduce significant escalation of its own.

Peking has weighed the evidence and expressed the conviction that Soviet words are not to be trusted. By implication, Red China accused Moscow of colluding with the Americans in a search for a road to negotiations.

The timing of a recent Peking blast reflects the Red Chinese leadership's attitude toward Soviet moves. On the day that Alexander N. Shelepin and his delegation arrived in Peking en route to Hanoi, People's Daily printed a long tirade against the United States and its motives in continuing a pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

When there was a bombing pause last May, it recalled, there were "murmurs from among the modern revisionists"—meaning the Soviet leaders—that the suspension was too short and "the trick had not been very well played."

Now, it continued, "the Johnson administration appears to be taking the advice of these people."

Evidently "these people" included not only advisers in Washington, but those same "modern revisionists."

The paper, which is the official voice of the Chinese Communist party, then presented this as evidence against the Russians:

"In pursuing its 'peace talks' hoax, the Johnson administration places special hopes on the Khrushchev revisionists and their followers. It began the 'pause in bombing' on Dec. 24, and on the same day its ambassador in Moscow, Foy D. Kohler, called on Soviet Vice For-

Unit Urges Health Test Participation

The Pickaway County Unit of the American Cancer Society today urged all citizens to participate while at home in the "National Health Test" Jan. 18 from 10 to 11 p. m. on the CBS Television Network.

Charles Felkey, president of the local ACS organization, said it will be a once in a lifetime opportunity for individuals to test their knowledge on subjects ranging from cancer to the common cold, pediatrics to menopause, heart disease to birth control.

"The National Health Test" is the third CBS continuing series of highly - acclaimed audience involvement test broadcasts.

The test will consist of questions often asked by patients of their doctors and questions designed to test knowledge that doctors believe their patients should have. The broadcast will also ask about subjects such as how to select a doctor, medical "old wives tales," home remedies, and quackery.

Questions for the "National Health Test" are being prepared with the assistance of The American Cancer Society, The American Medical Assn., The American Heart Assn., The National Mental Health Assn., the National Council to Combat Blindness and the U. S. National Institute of Health and the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

eign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov. "Three days later, it published its '14-point' proposition"—the American terms for peace talks with North Viet Nam. "The next day the Soviet Union announced that a delegation headed by Shelepin would visit Viet Nam. Then on Dec. 29, the senior U.S. officials began their travels overseas as salesmen for the 'peace talks' scheme. On the same day, Kohler called on Nikolay V. Podgorny, president of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R."

The paper quoted comments abroad to show that the Soviet and American actions might have "common features," and that "before taking the decision that Shelepin should visit Hanoi, the Soviet Union obviously was tipped off in one form or another by the United States about the pause in its bombing."

There were evidences of heavy pressure on North Viet Nam's Communist leadership from both Moscow and Peking. Comments from Hanoi welcome Soviet aid but at the same time invariably mention gratitude for Chinese aid, too. Still, there has been less emphasis on China in recent days from Hanoi than there has been in the past, and possibly Peking is worried about the Soviet delegation.

This does not mean that peace is around the corner. If present peace offensive efforts fail, the war could intensify. The presence of Soviet military brass with the delegation in Hanoi could mean that if no road to negotiations is visible, the Soviet Union will be prepared to introduce modern weapons and massive military aid.

16 Nations Send Youths To Study Skills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chin Suk Yang of Korea, Muhamed Mamser of Jordan, Dickson Rodriguez of Peru built roads, dug irrigation ditches and hauled fish nets in New Mexico last fall.

They got up early each morning, worked hard all day in the rugged Mila Mountain wilderness, then swapped yarns and folk songs around a camp fire at night.

In all, 24 young men from 16 nations took part in the three-month course to prepare them as leaders of national youth service corps along the lines of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

They learned basic construction skills, physical education techniques, but, most important of all, developed the self confidence to lead others.

The international youth leadership training course was conducted by Sports International and Youth Development a private, non-profit service organization, and financed by the federal Agency for International Development.

A second course will start in mid-February in Puerto Rico. This time 30 young men from 20 nations will take part.

This could be described as a sort of Peace Corps in reverse. Many of the key men running it saw duty with the U.S. Peace Corps, either as staff members or as volunteers.

Dr. David Dichter, former Peace Corps Washington staffer and sports buff, began the organization in 1962 as Sports International. Its first projects were exchanges of athletes and coaches in many sports, involving many nations.

The plan calls for the young men to return to their homes and help organize national youth service corps or work projects capable of involving thousands of young men.

Starting last September, the 24 young men spent 10 weeks at Camp Thunderbird in southwestern New Mexico. The program was conducted by Western New Mexico University, with special instructors including forest rangers, soil conservation experts, forestry experts, adult literacy authorities, biologists and a variety of other experts.

U.S., Soviet Diplomacy Enrages Red China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Red China's leadership is reacting with rage to American and Soviet diplomatic maneuvers, as if gripped by a major peace scare.

Evidently Peking dismisses as empty propaganda the suggestions from Soviet bloc Communists that if the United States intensifies the war in Viet Nam, the Soviet Union will introduce significant escalation of its own.

Peking has weighed the evidence and expressed the conviction that Soviet words are not to be trusted. By implication, Red China accused Moscow of colluding with the Americans in a search for a road to negotiations.

The timing of a recent Peking blast reflects the Red Chinese leadership's attitude toward Soviet moves. On the day that Alexander N. Shelepin and his delegation arrived in Peking en route to Hanoi, People's Daily printed a long tirade against the United States and its motives in continuing a pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam.

When there was a bombing pause last May, it recalled, there were "murmurs from among the modern revisionists"—meaning the Soviet leaders—that the suspension was too short and "the trick had not been very well played."

Now, it continued, "the Johnson administration appears to be taking the advice of these people."

Evidently "these people" included not only advisers in Washington, but those same "modern revisionists."

The paper, which is the official voice of the Chinese Communist party, then presented this as evidence against the Russians:

"In pursuing its 'peace talks' hoax, the Johnson administration places special hopes on the Khrushchev revisionists and their followers. It began the 'pause in bombing' on Dec. 24, and on the same day its ambassador in Moscow, Foy D. Kohler, called on Soviet Vice For-

Unit Urges Health Test Participation

The Pickaway County Unit of the American Cancer Society today urged all citizens to participate while at home in the "National Health Test" Jan. 18 from 10 to 11 p.m. on the CBS Television Network.

Charles Felkey, president of the local ACS organization, said it will be a once in a lifetime opportunity for individuals to test their knowledge on subjects ranging from cancer to the common cold, pediatrics to menopause, heart disease to birth control.

"The National Health Test" is the third CBS continuing series of highly acclaimed audience involvement test broadcasts.

The test will consist of questions often asked by patients of their doctors and questions designed to test knowledge that doctors believe their patients should have. The broadcast will also ask about subjects such as how to select a doctor, medical "old wives tales," home remedies, and quackery.

Questions for the "National Health Test" are being prepared with the assistance of The American Cancer Society, The American Medical Assn., The American Heart Assn., The National Mental Health Assn., the National Council to Combat Blindness and the U. S. National Institute of Health and the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

eign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov. "Three days later, it published its '14-point' proposition"—the American terms for peace talks with North Viet Nam. "The next day the Soviet Union announced that a delegation headed by Shelepin would visit Viet Nam. Then on Dec. 29, the senior U.S. officials began their travels overseas as salesmen for the 'peace talks' scheme. On the same day, Kohler called on Nikolay V. Podgorny, president of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R."

The paper quoted comments abroad to show that the Soviet and American actions might have "common features," and that "before taking the decision that Shelepin should visit Hanoi, the Soviet Union obviously was tipped off in one form or another by the United States about the pause in its bombing."

There were evidences of heavy pressure on North Viet Nam's Communist leadership from both Moscow and Peking. Comments from Hanoi welcome Soviet aid but at the same time invariably mention gratitude for Chinese aid, too. Still, there has been less emphasis on China in recent days from Hanoi than there has been in the past, and possibly Peking is worried about the Soviet delegation.

This does not mean that peace is around the corner. If present peace offensive efforts fail, the war could intensify. The presence of Soviet military brass with the delegation in Hanoi could mean that if no road to negotiations is visible, the Soviet Union will be prepared to introduce modern weapons and massive military aid.

3 Daytonians Held For Vandalizing Church

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's departments of Montgomery and Miami counties believed they may have solved the $5,000 vandalism of a rural church as well as two burglaries with three arrests Thursday and three more expected today.

Three male Dayton residents were picked up here Thursday. Authorities said $1,500 worth of loot from burglaries of two stores here was recovered and there was strong evidence linking the suspects with Tuesday night's wrecking of the Rush Creek Church of God in the West Milton area. Charges had not been filed.

If anything is plain, it is that the big majority in the United States would like to make up its mind on the Vietnam situation without marchings and teachings and all the other hoopla that we have been witnessing over the past year. This, it must be said, goes for demonstrations by both the Left and the Right. The attempt of the Left to carry the country by storm toward a peace-at-any-price decision has failed to generate mass support. But the counter-movement sparked by such groups as Young Americans for Freedom has not brought out any huge crowds. A YAF gathering of 1,500, give or take a few score, turned out to listen to Senator Karl Mundt the other week in Washington, and Tom Dodd Jr., the son of Senator Dodd, read a few words for his father. But the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans were conspicuous by their absence from a meeting that might have concerned most of them.

Where does all this leave the country? What it proves to me is that most people prefer to let courts, legislatures, the President, and the written word as reported in the press and over radio and TV, do their speaking for them. For, at the same time that YAF was finding it practically impossible to bring a big group into Washington, some 500,000 students in more than 300 colleges were signing a pledge to support President Johnson's promise to stand firm in Vietnam until peace can be had with honor. The willingness to stand up and be counted is there, but the average person doesn't want to be dramatic about it.

What all this should prove to the world is that Americans are willing to "do what it takes" to maintain their country's position as the big bulwark against Communism, but they want to approach the necessity of physical action to that end with a stoical mien.

The stoic spirit is actually reflected on the Left as well as on the Right. At the recent gathering of the New Left groups in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the "moderates" rejected the counsels of the Far-Out Vietnam Day Committee of Berkeley, California, who preach instant withdrawal from Vietnam. The 38-to-25 vote against calling for immediate troop departure separated the pragmatists of the movement from the Maoists, the Trotskyites, and those who listen to the orthodox Communists. This doesn't mean that the Far-Out Left has been rendered toothless. But it does indicate that Lyndon Johnson, by his "peace offensive," had, at least for the moment, split the movement that was calling for his scalp just a few short weeks ago.

As this column is being written, the pause in the war continues. The same split among the "liberals" that was observable at the Milwaukee New Left meeting is disturbing the campaign in the Seventeenth District in New York for John Lindsay's old seat in Congress. The Democratic candidate, Orin Lehman, who has a great New York political name, would like to see the U. S. negotiate its way out of the Vietnam mess with honor. The Republican candidate, Theodore Kupferman, is actually to the Left of Lehman on the Vietnam issue. The Conservative Party, in nominating Jeffrey St. John, a radio-TV personality who has been trying to get something called Operation Asia off the ground to roll up support for a clear-cut victory over the Viet Cong, is trying to produce a definite statement of principle in a district that is probably far from representing a cross-section of America. If enough votes go to St. John to win for Lehman, it would mean that even in an unrepresentative urban neighborhood Johnson can carry the day for insisting on peace-with-honor in Asia.

Meanwhile, Sanford Gottlieb, Washington representative of SANE, is off to Algiers for reconnaissance among people who might talk for Ho Chi Minh. Gottlieb speaks for the Non-Communist peace movement, and his trip could be regarded as being in tune with LBJ's recent spirit of permissiveness toward peace feelers of any kind. It's all a tangle. But one thing is certain: Johnson can't fight his war forever with only stoics to back him. There's got to be some movement one way or the other, and soon.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DOROTHY MIDDLETON, in a book called "Victorian Lady Travellers," paints an intriguing portrait of Mary Kingsley, who, attired in her "stout Victorian skirt and prim head-dress" scared the daylight out of a fierce African cannibal tribe. Not only didn't they eat her; they ended up beseeching her for remedies to cure insect bites and blisters. She also helped them kill a man-eating crocodile, dispersed a herd of wild hippopotami by poking them with her umbrella, and let a leopard out of a cage that obviously was not to its liking. When the leopard stood liberated before her, not knowing whether to lick her hand or attack her, the indomitable Miss Kingsley simply stamped her foot and commanded, "Go home, you fool!" The leopard turned tail and crept off meekly into the jungle.

Dick Shawn, investigating the string of fabulously successful resort hotels in the "Borscht Circuit," reports: "They say in the Catskills that the only truly happy guest is one who every time he opens his mouth is either eating or laughing. It is essential to keep the guests occupied. For example, there even are classes in jewelry making. A girl may not bag a husband, but at least she can return home with a pair of earrings."

Grocer's Daughter Is Now a Star

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—She was only a grocer's daughter, but she refused to be put on a shelf. So, at 23, Rita Tushingham, who never took a formal drama lesson in her life, has become one of Britain's brightest young film stars.

Her story is that of the ugly duckling who became a success without turning into a swan—a Cinderella who looks more like a wistful gnome.

Rita is 5 feet 2 and built a bit like a pigeon-chested roving guard for a girl's hockey team. Her face would never win a beauty contest, but her face is her fortune. It looks like an elf toy drawn by Walt Disney, and shines with the awkward grace of youth.

"It's the face that helps in films," she said. "It has to have something that comes through. I've been lucky."

Going to football games in her native Liverpool stirred Rita to dream of a career in the theater.

"I thought the response of the crowd was marvelous," she said.

Rita quit school at 15, spent three months taking a business course during which she learned to type and write "I love you" in shorthand.

She landed a job as assistant stage manager with the Liverpool Repertory Theatre. She played a few small parts,

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What are hemorrhoids? Hemorrhoids, or piles, are enlargements of the tiny veins that normally surround the rectum. There are two types, the external and the internal forms of piles.

The difference is based more on the exact location than on the symptoms they produce.

What are the most common causes? Chronic constipation, straining during stool evacuation, pregnancy and long-standing rectal diseases are the most frequent causes. Occupations that necessitate lifting heavy weights sometimes cause pressure on the veins and make them dilate.

It is also said the frequent and indiscriminate use of cathartics in patients who have irregular bowel movements tend to produce hemorrhoids. There are some more serious disturbances in the pelvis that can cause them. Fortunately, these are comparatively rare.

How can one tell if there are hemorrhoids? External hemorrhoids can be felt beneath the skin, around the anal opening. There are small, round, purplish lumps, which become more enlarged when straining during bowel movements.

Internal hemorrhoids are recognized by the physician during examination. Bleeding from the rectum is probably the principal symptom in both external and internal piles.

Bright red blood in the stool is a sign of bleeding low in the intestinal tract or from hemorrhoids. All bleeding must be investigated immediately in order to be sure that there is no serious underlying condition.

The pain of hemorrhoids varies. It can become very severe when the veins become inflamed, infected or filled with clots.

How are hemorrhoids treated? The underlying cause must first be found. Constipation and straining at stools must be eliminated to take the pressure off the veins in the area of the rectal opening. Suppositories and ointments that contain mild local anesthetics and astringents can offer relief.

Mineral oil, taken at night, is an excellent lubricant that reduces the stress on the hemorrhoids. Moderately warm baths and hot compresses afford welcome relief.

Physicians carefully outline diets without roughage and combine these with special medications to reduce the size of hemorrhoids.

When is surgery necessary? When there is persistent bleeding, sufficient to produce an anemia, when there is disabling pain and when there is physical incapacitation, surgery should be resorted to.

Occasionally, before surgery, an attempt is made to treat hemorrhoids with injections of special chemicals. In many instances this is successful.

Surgery should not be so delayed that a relatively simple, safe operation is converted to a difficult and complicated one.

Emotional problems can be helped by discussing them with someone trained in the art of listening.

If anything is plain, it is that the big majority in the United States would like to make up its mind on the Vietnam situation without marching and teachings and all the other hoopla that we have been witnessing over the past year. This, it must be said, goes for demonstrations by both the Left and the Right. The attempt of the Left to carry the country by storm toward a peace-at-any-price decision has failed to generate mass support. But the counter-movement, sparked by such groups as Young Americans for Freedom has not brought out any huge crowds. A YAF gathering of 1,500, give or take a few score, turned out to listen to Senator Karl Mundt the other week in Washington, and Tom Dodd Jr., the son of Senator Dodd, read a few words for his father. But the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans were conspicuous by their absence from a meeting that might have concerned most of them.

Where does all this leave the country? What it proves to me is that most people prefer to let courts, legislatures, the President, and the written word as reported in the press and over radio and TV, do their speaking for them. For, at the same time that YAF was finding it practically impossible to bring a big group into Washington, some 500,000 students in more than 300 colleges were signing a pledge to support President Johnson's promise to stand firm in Vietnam until peace can be had with honor. The willingness to stand up and be counted is there, but the average person doesn't want to be dramatic about it.

What all this should prove to the world is that Americans are willing to "do what it takes" to maintain their country's position as the big bulwark against Communism, but they want to approach the necessity of physical action to that end with a stoical mind.

The stoic spirit is actually reflected on the Left as well as on the Right. At the recent gathering of the New Left groups in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the "moderates" rejected the counsels of the Far-Out Vietnam Day Committee of Berkeley, California, who preach instant withdrawal from Vietnam. The 38-to-25 vote against calling for immediate troop departure separated the pragmatists of the movement from the Maoists, the Trotskyites, and those who listen to the orthodox Communists. This doesn't mean that the Far-Out Left has been rendered toothless. But it does indicate that Lyndon Johnson, by his "peace offensive," had, at least for the moment, split the movement that was calling for his scalp just a few short weeks ago.

As this column is being written, the pause in the war continues. The same split among the "liberals" that was observable at the Milwaukee New Left meeting is disturbing the campaign in the Seventeenth

District in New York for John Lindsay's old seat in Congress. The Democratic candidate, Orin Lehman, who has a great New York political name, would like to see the U. S. negotiate its way out of the Vietnam mess with honor. The Republican candidate, Theodore Kupferman, is actually to the Left of Lehman on the Vietnam issue. The Conservative Party, in nominating Jeffrey St. John, a radio-TV personality who has been trying to get something called Operation Asia off the ground to roll up support for a clear-cut victory over the Viet Cong, is trying to produce a definite statement of principle in a district that is probably far from representing a cross-section of America. If enough votes go to St. John to win for Lehman, it would mean that even in an unrepresentative urban neighborhood Johnson can carry the day for insisting on peace-with-honor in Asia.

Meanwhile, Sanford Gottlieb, Washington representative of SANE, is off to Algiers for reconnaissance among people who might talk for Ho Chi Minh. Gottlieb speaks for the Non-Communist peace movement, and his trip could be regarded as being in tune with LBJ's recent spirit of permissiveness toward peace feelers of any kind. It's all a tangle. But one thing is certain: Johnson can't fight his war forever with only stoics to back him. There's got to be some movement one way or the other, and soon.

Grocer's Daughter Is Now a Star

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—She was only a grocer's daughter, but she refused to be put on a shelf.

So, at 23, Rita Tushingham, who never took a formal drama lesson in her life, has become one of Britain's brightest young film stars.

Her story is that of the ugly duckling who became a success without turning into a swan—a Cinderella who looks more like a wistful gnome.

Rita is 5 feet 2 and built a bit like a pigeon-chested roving guard for a girl's hockey team. Her face would never win a beauty contest, but her face is her fortune. It looks like an elf toy drawn by Walt Disney, and shines with the awkward grace of youth.

"It's the face that helps in films," she said. "It has to have something that comes through. I've been lucky."

Going to football games in her native Liverpool stirred Rita to dream of a career in the theater.

"I thought the response of the crowd was marvelous," she said.

Rita quit school at 15, spent three months taking a business course during which she learned to type and write "I love you" in shorthand.

She landed a job as assistant stage manager with the Liverpool Repertory Theater. She played a few small parts, served as a prompter, and worked from 9 in the morning until 11 at night.

"It was good training," she said.

"But I had to leave because I wasn't experienced enough. I hadn't been to drama school. So I went and got myself a film part."

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Edward Blum, 372 Watt St., returned home after spending a month visiting Mrs. Charles Brizius, La Grange, Ill.

Mrs. Clarice Kaehele was guest of honor at a farewell dinner given by fellow employees of Berger Hospital.

Christy Zehner, 12-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Zehner, had five strikes in open play bowling at Circle D Lanes.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Rev. and Mrs. Jack C. Bennett entertained 183 members and friends of St. Philip's Church for the annual "12th Night" Open House in the church rectory.

Miss Joan Judy and Mrs. Marie Bates of Columbus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orley Judy and family of Salt Creek Twp.

M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, mayor of Columbus, gave a birthday dinner for his mother, Mrs. Ed Sensenbrenner of 306 E. Mount St., at the Pickaway Arms.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood was to be guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Pickaway County Board of Public Assistance.

W. E. Lamb, Commercial Point, was elected president of the Methodist Brotherhood at a meeting held in the Methodist Parish House.

Nineteen claims, none for a fatality, had been filed by Pickaway County workers with the State Industrial Commission.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DOROTHY MIDDLETON, in a book called "Victorian Lady Travellers," paints an intriguing portrait of Mary Kingsley, who, attired in her "stout Victorian skirt and prim head-dress" scared the daylight out of a fierce African cannibal tribe. Not only didn't they eat her; they ended up beseeching her for remedies to cure insect bites and blisters. She also helped them kill a man-eating crocodile, dispersed a herd of wild hippopotami by poking them with her umbrella, and let a leopard out of a cage that obviously was not to its liking. When the leopard stood liberated before her, not knowing whether to lick her hand or attack her, the indomitable Miss Kingsley simply stamped her foot and commanded, "Go home, you fool." The leopard turned tail and crept off meekly into the jungle.

Dick Shawn, investigating the string of fabulously successful resort hotels in the "Borscht Circuit," reports: "They say in the Catskills that the only truly happy guest is one who every time he opens his mouth is either eating or laughing. It is essential to keep the guests occupied. For example, there even are classes in jewelry making. A girl may not bag a husband, but at least she can return home with a pair of earrings."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What are hemorrhoids? Hemorrhoids, or piles, are enlargements of the tiny veins that normally surround the rectum. There are two types, the external and the internal forms of piles.

The difference is based more on the exact location than on the symptoms they produce.

What are the most common causes?

Chronic constipation, straining during stool evacuation, pregnancy and long-standing rectal diseases are the most frequent causes. Occupations that necessitate lifting heavy weights sometimes cause pressure on the veins and make them dilate.

It is also said the frequent and indiscriminate use of cathartics in patients who have irregular bowel movements tend to produce hemorrhoids. There are some more serious disturbances in the pelvis that can cause them. Fortunately, these are comparatively rare.

How can one tell if there are hemorrhoids?

External hemorrhoids can be felt beneath the skin, around the anal opening. There are small, round, purplish lumps, which become more enlarged when straining during bowel movements.

Internal hemorrhoids are recognized by the physician during examination. Bleeding from the rectum is probably the principal symptom in both external and internal piles.

Bright red blood in the stool is a sign of bleeding low in the intestinal tract or from hemorrhoids. All bleeding must be investigated immediately in order to be sure that there is no serious underlying condition.

The pain of hemorrhoids varies. It can become very severe when the veins become inflamed, infected or filled with clots.

How are hemorrhoids treated?

The underlying cause must first be found. Constipation and straining at stools must be eliminated to take the pressure off the veins in the area of the rectal opening. Suppositories and ointments that contain mild local anesthetics and astringents can offer relief.

Mineral oil, taken at night, is an excellent lubricant that reduces the stress on the hemorrhoids. Moderately warm baths and hot compresses afford welcome relief.

Physicians carefully outline diets without roughage and combine these with special medications to reduce the size of hemorrhoids.

When is surgery necessary? When there is persistent bleeding, sufficient to produce an anemia, when there is disabling pain and when there is physical incapacitation, surgery should be resorted to.

Occasionally, before surgery, an attempt is made to treat hemorrhoids with injections of special chemicals. In many instances this is successful.

Surgery should not be so delayed that a relatively simple, safe operation is converted to a difficult and complicated one.

Emotional problems can be helped by discussing them with someone trained in the art of listening.

Ireland had one million people in 1670. By 1845 the population had swollen to eight million. When the potato crop failed in 1848, a million Irishmen starved to death; another million emigrated. Due to emigration and wide-spread celibacy, the island's population has continued to decline to the present level of about four million.

DEAR ABBY: Today I wore a granny dress to school. After lunch I was called to the principal's office. He had the audacity to complain about my dress. We have a dress code at our school and it doesn't say anything about LONG dresses, but, in either case, the principal doesn't go by the dress code anyway. He makes all the decisions when there is a question. The thing that burns me up is you don't get yelled at for wearing SHORT, TIGHT SKIRTS, or even the boys for not wearing SOCKS, but I get yelled at for wearing a granny dress because it's TOO LONG! Tomorrow I will wear a real short, tight skirt and not one word will be said. Please tell me what to do. I won't take this from him!

"GRANNY" My, what a short fuse you have! Don't provoke a revolution, but do suggest that the code be revised to include the granny dress. Whatever else may be said about it, it is certainly the most modest fat that has come along for teenage girls in a long time. And don't blame the principal for making the decisions when there is a question. He is the highest authority at your school, and the privilege is his.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law rarely buys a gift for anyone. She just takes the gifts people have given her, has them rewrapped and gives them to others. This has been going on for years, and everyone in the family knows this. I once had some lovely tea towels and, one of my guests remarked, "Where did you get them? I gave some to your mother-in-law five years ago and have never seen any like them." One of her sisters gave her a beautiful nightgown, and the next year she turned around and gave it to another sister for her birthday! I gave my mother-in-law some stationery and dusting powder for Christmas last year, and this year she gave it to MY daughter! I now hesitate to put out anything she has given me (like a candy dish or a ash try) because I'm sure someone gave it to her and if I'm asked where I got it, what do I say?

AT A LOSS

DEAR AT: The problem is HERS, not yours. If anyone asks you where anything came from, tell them the truth. It is no reflection on YOU that your mother-in-law goes gift shopping in her own drawers.

DEAR ABBY: I have naturally curly hair that kinks and curls and frizzes when it's wet or damp or humid. I was told that if I gave myself a reverse permanent, it would straighten my hair out. Please don't tell me to go to a hairdresser because I have heard that they use a very strong solution that makes your hair break off. Thank you.

KINKY

DEAR KINKY: I would certainly not advise you to give yourself a "reverse" permanent in hopes of straightening your hair. Put your head in the hands of a top-notch hairdresser.

Best-Dressed Women List Dominated by Families

NEW YORK (AP) — Does an elegant sense of fashion run in families?

Mrs. Carter Burden at 22 tops the 1965 list of the best-dressed women in the world, announced Thursday. She is the wife of a Columbia University law student from a socially prominent family, but more importantly, from a fashion viewpoint, she is the daughter of Mrs. William Paley, a member of the Fashion Hall of Fame.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who usually heads the best-dressed, was elevated to the Fashion Hall of Fame.

The former First Lady's younger sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, often on the list, lost out. Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late President Kennedy, repeated from last year.

The Ford sisters — Anne and Charlotte — who recently became Mrs. Giancarlo Uzielli and Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, again were cited as one entry. "Their taste is identical, representing the best of the young international way of dressing," a list committee noted. Their mother, the former Mrs. Henry Ford II, is in the Fashion Hall of Fame.

Among the royal members on the list is Mrs. Angus Ogilvy.

GOD'S CHARACTER REVEALED IN THE CREATION, IN NATURE, IN HIS LAWS, IN THOSE WHO KNOW HIM THROUGH CHRIST

Scripture—Genesis 1:1-25; Leviticus 19:1, 2; 1 Chronicles 29:10-19; Psalms 29; Isaiah 40:21-31, 55:8, 9; Acts 17:22-31; Romans 11:33-36; Revelation 4:6-11.

By R. H. RAMSEY

Understanding the character of God. What a lesson to confront! Through the ages theologians and philosophers have sought to understand and express the infinitely complex nature of God and His universe, and have failed to understand perfectly, or even with a great deal of satisfaction, the nature of the unseen heavenly order. Yet, it is important that we try to comprehend even a small portion of this "dimension" so different from the physical world in which we live.

A close examination of the opening verse of the book of Genesis provides what is probably the finest, yet necessarily incomplete, analysis of the kingdom of nature. God exists; for it was He who in the beginning created. God is eternal; for He was before all things and, as nothing comes from nothing, He himself must have always been. He is omnipotent; for He visions of His prophets, and supremely in the birth, life, teachings, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ, the power, wisdom and might of God brought to bear upon our lives.

A created order presupposes a Creator. And the Creator still abides with and watches over His creation. He is in every part of His creation, including our own lives, and although we understand Him and His purposes only inadequately, we understand well enough to obey Him and find peace of heart and a continuous growth and expansion of our lives.

Through faith in Jesus Christ we understand enough of the infinite nature, majesty and holiness of God to trust God's revelation, submit our lives to Him, and strive with peaceful and obedient minds to walk in the way of His holy purposes.

God's judgments are unfath-

GOLDEN TEXT

"And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come."—Revelation 4:8.

created a universe of things. He is free; for He began a new course of action. He is infinitely free; for a cosmos, an order of matter and mind, can only come from a Being of absolute intelligence. He is good; for such a One has no reason, motive or capacity for evil. He is beyond limits of time and place; for He was before time and place. He is holy; for He is separate from His creation and towers above it.

Such knowledge of the immensity of God is likely to produce within ourselves a sense of futility. Since the world we live in is so small and insignificant, since the only things we can know are those we see, touch, hear, taste, and smell, then to such a Supreme Being we would appear as minute particles of matter in His vast cosmos. But this is not so. God's concern for the least and greatest of us is revealed in the history of Israel, in the lives of great religious figures, in the omable, His ways past finding out, for we cannot know His mind. We are part of His creation, but He did not find it necessary to consult man as to how His creation was to take place. We can see, therefore, how foolish it is for us to question God's judgment and fall into doubt and despair because we cannot perfectly understand His ways. We should not let our faith be impaired because we cannot understand God and the heavenly order perfectly.

God neither asks nor expects this of us, for the human mind is incapable of grasping the infinite truths of the nature of God. We can understand enough to bow before Him and be guided by His majesty, wisdom, power and holy purpose. The rest we must accept on faith. Let us exercise our faith and use it to support us in a sincere attempt to understand divine truth better and to apply it to the everyday problems of our lives.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of borrowing is still creeping higher as the demand for loans rises at both consumer and business levels.

One result is that the return on long-term bonds also is higher of late and well above the yield from most of the popular common stocks.

Another result of increased interest rates and greater loan demand is that many of the nation's banks are enjoying more business. And early reports show their profits up smartly from a year ago.

A third result is that the U.S. Treasury is paying more to lenders and is all but frozen out of the long-term bond market where there is a legal ceiling of 4 1/2 per cent on the interest it can offer. The Treasury's interest costs, much of it for short-term securities, this year may hit $13 billion.

The volume of bank loans to business has risen sharply since last summer. Demand for funds is spurred by increased business activity as well as by plans to expand plants and buy new equipment. The cost of borrowing has gone up in recent weeks, as business customers discover when they go back to their bank for a new loan.

Consumer credit also is in a new growth stage. The more affluent the society becomes the more confident consumers are of their ability to handle more instalment debt. They are estimated to have taken on $74 billion of such debt last year, and to have made monthly repayments totaling about $67 billion as they reduced old commitments. At the end of the year perhaps $66 billion of instalment credit was still outstanding, compared with $59 billion a year earlier.

Some high-grade corporate bonds now yield around 5 per cent. Their interest rate often is fixed below 5 per cent, but the market price of many of them has dropped to a level that gives today's buyers a 5 per cent return. High-grade municipal bonds are yielding about 3.6 per cent but are popular as offering a return free of federal income taxes.

Corporate dividends have risen in recent months, but market prices of common stocks have gone up even more. At today's prices the return from many common stocks is well below the yield from high grade bonds. But stock traders tend to look more for price increases in the stocks of their choice than for the yield, welcome as fatter dividend payments are.

Understanding the character of God. What a lesson to confront! Through the ages theologians and philosophers have sought to understand and express the infinitely complex nature of God and His universe, and have failed to understand perfectly, or even with a great deal of satisfaction, the nature of the unseen heavenly order. Yet, it is important that we try to comprehend even a small portion of this "dimension" so different from the physical world in which we live.

A close examination of the opening verse of the book of Genesis provides what is probably the finest, yet necessarily incomplete, analysis of the kingdom of nature. God exists; for it was He who in the beginning created. He is eternal; for He was before all things and, as nothing comes from nothing, He himself must have always been. He is omnipotent; for He visions of His prophets, and supremely in the birth, life, teachings, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ, the power, wisdom and might of God brought to bear upon our lives.

A created order presupposes a Creator. And the Creator still abides with and watches over His creation. He is in every part of His creation, including our own lives, and although we understand Him and His purposes only inadequately, we understand well enough to obey Him and find peace of heart and a continuous growth and expansion of our lives.

Through faith in Jesus Christ we understand enough of the infinite nature, majesty and holiness of God to trust God's revelation, submit our lives to Him, and strive with peaceful and obedient minds to walk in the way of His holy purposes.

God's judgments are unfath-

"And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within; and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come."—Revelation 4:8.

created a universe of things. He is free; for He began a new course of action. He is infinitely wise; for a cosmos, an order of matter and mind, can only come from a Being of absolute intelligence. He is good; for such a One has no reason, motive or capacity for evil. He is beyond limits of time and place; for He was before time and place. He is holy; for He is separate from His creation and towers above it.

Such knowledge of the immensity of God is likely to produce within ourselves a sense of futility. Since the world we live in is so small and insignificant, since the only things we can know are those we see, touch, hear, taste, and smell, then to such a Supreme Being we would appear as minute particles of matter in His vast cosmos. But this is not so. God's concern for the least and greatest of us is revealed in the history of Israel, in the lives of great religious figures, in the omable, His ways past finding out, for we cannot know His mind. We are part of His creation, but He did not find it necessary to consult man as to how his creation was to take place. We can see, therefore, how foolish it is for us to question God's judgment and fall into doubt and despair because we cannot perfectly understand His ways. We should not let our faith be impaired because we cannot understand God and the heavenly order perfectly.

God neither asks nor expects this of us, for the human mind is incapable of grasping the infinite truths of the nature of God. We can understand enough to bow before Him and be guided by His majesty, wisdom, power and holy purpose. The rest we must accept on faith.

Let us exercise our faith and use it to support us in a sincere attempt to understand divine truth better and to apply it to the everyday problems of our lives.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of borrowing is still creeping higher as the demand for loans rises at both consumer and business levels.

One result is that the return on long-term bonds also is higher of late and well above the yield from most of the popular common stocks.

Another result of increased interest rates and greater loan demand is that many of the nation's banks are enjoying more business. And early reports show their profits up smartly from a year ago.

A third result is that the U.S. Treasury is paying more to lenders and is all but frozen out of the long-term bond market where there is a legal ceiling of 4 1/2 per cent on the interest it can offer. The Treasury's interest costs, much of it for short-term securities, this year may hit $13 billion.

The volume of bank loans to business has risen sharply since last summer. Demand for funds is spurred by increased business activity as well as by plans to expand plants and buy new equipment. The cost of borrowing has gone up in recent weeks, as business customers discover when they go back to their bank for a new loan.

Consumer credit also is in a new growth stage. The more affluent society becomes the more confident consumers are of their ability to handle more instalment debt. They are estimated to have taken on $74 billion of such debt last year, and to have made monthly repayments totaling about $67 billion as they reduced old commitments. At the end of the year perhaps $66 billion of instalment credit was still outstanding, compared with $59 billion a year earlier.

Some high-grade corporate bonds now yield around 5 per cent. Their interest rate often is fixed below 5 per cent, but the market price of many of them has dropped to a level that gives today's buyers a 5 per cent return. High-grade municipal bonds are yielding about 3.6 per cent but are popular as offering a return free of federal income taxes.

Corporate dividends have risen in recent months, but market prices of common stocks have gone up even more. At today's prices the return from many common stocks is well below the yield from high grade bonds. But stock traders tend to look more for price increases in the stocks of their choice than for the yield, welcome as fatter dividend payments are.

Local Members Attend Assembly

According to Wayne Fetherolf, presiding minister of the Circleville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses there were 1,368 in attendance at the circuit assembly held during the weekend near Cincinnati.

Among the 35 attending from the Circleville area were Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Salvage and sons, Gregory, Tex. Tom and David, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Congrove and daughter, Teresa.

Frank C. Spacil, district supervisor for over 175 congregations of the Witnesses in four states declared, "Despite the present world troubles and woeful expectations, the future of the earth is bright with a Bible promise." He said the resurrection was that promise.

The meet was held at the Amelia High School and on Saturday 25 new ministers were baptized by total immersion in an indoor pool at the Kingdom Hall in Cincinnati.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The true educator of man is the founder of religion, who trains him in morals and the higher virtues and reveals to him his spiritual reality. All the prophets have served this purpose. They have trained men in honesty, truthfulness, trustworthiness, reverence, modesty, civil obedience and self-sacrifice for others, the essential teachings of all religion is the same."

"The differences in religion are due to the different requirements of the times in which each revelation was made, and the enmity between religions is due to prejudice and ignorance."

A WORLD IN TROUBLE

What has happened to this marvelous world of ours in this twentieth century of God's grace? Mankind seems to be passing through a sea of troubles which has no counterpart in human history.

There are wars and rumors of wars among the nations, and many of the nations themselves are split into warring factions, each faction striving for supremacy, and each intolerant of the views, hopes, and rights of others.

The great trouble with the world is that men have forgotten God. They no longer seek spiritual guidance, but follow the vain ways of the modern world. We have become a cynical, materialistic generation.

If this drift toward world tragedy and chaos is ever stopped, the churches of the world must do it. The world's hope—our hope—is in God and His Church. He alone can save mankind from a sorrowful fate.

The Church seeks to turn the hearts of men from the ways of war and fear and hate to the ways of peace and love.

Sympathy For Class Substitutes

By GREGG GRIFFITH

I pity any substitute teacher for the Journalism class! They usually walk into the room expecting to see a nice, orderly, disciplined class, but instead, they find a "disorderly" group of people writing and talking about ideas for the Red and Black. "Boys and girls, can't you be a little quieter?" This seems a reasonable request, so the students become some degree quieter.

Soon a boy gets up, says "I have to go to the office to see when Mr. Brown has a preparation period", and disappears through the door. The substitute calls him back and demands an explanation. The boy goes into detail telling the novice how the Red and Black news is gathered. In order to get rid of this "young tape recorder" she lets him and another boy go to their various assignments.

Soon two more people have assignments they have to attend to out of class. "But there are already two of you upstairs!" So the period goes, alternate times of class interviews, disappearing students, typing, collecting material for the weekly publication. The bell finally rings and another bewildered substitute retreats to the lounge.

Top Tunes Are Listed

By SANDY CRABTREE

Stop! Look! and Listen! For the top records, dances and bands.

We have ten top records of the week which are: "Lightning Striking Again" by Lou Christie; "Look Through A Window" by the Nickerbockers; "No Matter What Shape" by the T-Bones; "Fever" by the McCoys; "Just Like Me" by Paul Revere and the Raiders; "The Men In My Little Girl's Life" by Mike Douglas; "You Didn't Have To Be So Nice" by the Loving Spoonful; "Sound of Silence" by Simon and Garfunkel; "Michelle" by the Beatles; and "We Can Work It Out" and "Day Tripper" are one record by the Beatles.

The contest of 1965, presented by WCOT picked the top five hits of the year which are: 1. "Hand on Sloopy" by the McCoys; 2. "Crying in the Chapel" by Elvis Presley; 3. "Satisfaction" by the Rolling Stones; 4. Mrs. Brown, by Hermans Hermits; 5. "Downtown" by Petula Clark.

Bands and groups are coming up rapidly all around the world. Some of the top bands are: "The Rolling Stones", "The Supremes", "The McCoys", "The Beatles", "The Byrds", "The Who's", "The Dave Clark Five", etc., there are too many to name.

Local groups around Circleville are now forming. Local dances are sponsored by the Sigma Club and clubs at school. The dances are held at places such as the canteen and the 4-H Grange building. Among the local bands are: "The Dantes", "Electras", "Shags", "Emeralds", "Defenders", and the "Countdowns".

There are many dances teenagers engage in that parents think are silly! The jerk, dog, and sloopy has taken the place of the Charleston, jitterbug and big apple of yesterday.

Try, Try Again

By JOYCE QUINCEL

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." That's right, try again! So you didn't do it quite right the first time; does that mean you won't do it right the next time? Just because you didn't get the "A" you expected on your term paper, you shouldn't give up. Maybe the next time if you try a little harder, you might even get an "A" plus.

Of course, everyone wants to succeed in life; and this can be done only by trying to the fullest extent. Some people feel that they should just give up completely if they "goof" the first time. This certainly isn't the right attitude to take. Everyone has goals in life; and most people make some mistakes before reaching their goals. But, if they just keep trying, someday their goals will be reached.

So stop and think. Do you keep trying, even if you fail the first time? In order to succeed, you have to.

Exams Are Approaching

By GREG GRIFFITH

If you happen to be a CHS student, I have a few words of advice. Put down this newspaper and get back to your books!

Now that that's taken care of, I'll throw a few words of explanation at you non-CHS readers. You see, the next week will roll around bringing with it a tradition — generally called mid-term exams. The coming week has been looked upon with fear and apprehension for months by CHS students. In fact they are scared so much that they often forget to study! Hence the stern and sudden reminder to any students who may be reading the paper. But believe me, their fears are not unfounded! Teachers must spend at least three months thinking up those impossible questions.

On the day of exams, the student will receive a typical test (ten pages long with 200 questions.) Since the students only have about an hour and a half to do the test, the teacher naturally takes about forty - five minutes correcting the mistakes on the test sheet and explaining the questions. Then the student is allowed to start on the test. Of course about five minutes later his pencil breaks and after about fifteen minutes he finally gets the attention of the teacher and receives a two-inch pencil with no eraser.

Having heard before that a person should first do the questions he knows and then go back to the difficult ones, the student answers the nine or ten he is sure of and goes back to do the other 190 odd questions. All during this time the teacher is really helping things by saying something like "Only five minutes to go" or "You should by now have completed the first five pages" when you haven't even done the first two yet.

But, finally, the round of grueling tests are over, and the student can completely relax — until the grades he earned turn up on his report card!

Many Jobs Are Available For Upcoming Graduates

By DANA BASS

One hundred and forty nine students will graduate from CHS this June. Out of this 149 approximately 30 per cent will go to college and vocational schools, the remaining 70 per cent will seek jobs or go into the Armed Forces. Statistics show that one out of every five boys between the ages of 16 and 19 fail to find jobs. Yet thousands of highly paid jobs are going "begging."

A cook in New York who prepares hors d'oeuvres and buffet tables is paid $10,000 a year. But they are hard to find. A "Saucier" earns $7500 a year. A meat wholesaler pays one of his butchers $11,000 a year, others $10,000. One boy, just three years out of school, earns $8400 yearly.

For those of you who don't want to be cooks or butchers there are 5,133,275 jobs in the United States that require special training.

Statistics from the President's 1965 Manpower Report show in 1964 there were 70,359,000 people employed in the United States; 31,125,000 of these were white collar workers. Breaking the white collar down into four categories: professional and technical workers; clerical and kindred workers. They are classified as the skilled and semiskilled, and the unskilled. They also were 9,256,000 service workers, and 4,444,000 farm workers.

From the statistics shown above we can see that there are plenty of jobs open that need some special training but not college training.

If people will just inquire in more places than one or two, they will find that there are jobs "begging" for people to fill them.

Joyce Quincel and Connie Crabtree were responsible for getting out the Red and Black this week.

Last Friday all sophomores met in the auditorium. A discussion was held concerning a six period business course which could possibly be available next year if enough students were interested.

Fourteen class committee officers were nominated. The five of the fourteen elected were Bob Tootle, Craig Lambert, Melissa Willoughby, Connie Bowers and Donna Stevens.

Sympathy For Class Substitutes

By GREGG GRIFFITH
I pity any substitute teacher for the Journalism class! They usually walk into the room expecting to see a nice, orderly, disciplined class, but instead, they find a "disorderly" group of people writing and talking about ideas for the Red and Black. "Boys and girls, can't you be a little quieter?" This seems a reasonable request, so the students become some degree quieter.

Soon a boy gets up, says "I have to go to the office to see when Mr. Brown has a preparation period", and disappears through the door. The substitute calls him back and demands an explanation. The boy goes into detail telling the novice how the Red and Black news is gathered. In order to get rid of this "young tape recorder" she lets him and another boy go to their various assignments.

Soon two more people have assignments they have to attend to out of class. "But there are already two of you upstairs!" So the period goes, alternate times of class interviews, disappearing students, typing, collecting material for the weekly publication. The bell finally rings and another bewildered substitute retreats to the lounge.

Top Tunes Are Listed

Stop! Look! and Listen! For the top records, dances and bands.

We have ten top records of the week which are: "Lightning Striking Again" by Lou Christie; "Look Through Any Window" by the Nickersbackers; "No Matter What Shape" by the T-Bones; "Fever" by the McCoys; "Just Like Me" by Paul Revere and the Raiders; "The Men In My Little Girl's Life" by Mike Douglas; "You Didn't Have To Be So Nice" by the Loving Spoonfuls; "Sound of Silence" by Simon and Garfunkel; "Michelle" by the Beatles; and "We Can Work It Out" and "Day Tripper" are one record by the Beatles.

The contest of 1965, presented by WCOL picked the top five hits of the year which are: 1. "Hand on Sloopy" by the McCoys; 2. "Crying in the Chapel" by Elvis Presley; 3. "Satisfaction" by the Rolling Stones; 4. Mrs. Brown, by Hermans Hermans; 5. "Downtown" by Petula Clark.

Bands and groups are coming up rapidly all around the world. Some of the top bands are: "The Rolling Stones", "The Supremes", "The McCoys", "The Beatles", "The Byrds", "The Who's", "The Dave Clark Five", etc., there are too many to name.

Local groups around Circleville are now forming Local dances are sponsored by the Sigma Club and clubs at school. The dances are held at places such as the canteen and the 4-H Grange building. Among the local bands are: "The Dantes", "Electra", "Shags", "Emeralds", "Defenders", and the "Countdowns".

There are many dances teenagers engage in that parents think are silly! The jerk, dog, and sloopy has taken the place of the Charleston, jitterbug and big apple of yesterday.

Try, Try Again

By JOYCE QUINCEL

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." That's right, try again! So you didn't do it quite right the first time; does that mean you won't do it right the next time? Just because you didn't get the "A" you expected on your term paper, you shouldn't give up. Maybe the next time if you try a little harder, you might even get an "A" plus.

Of course, everyone wants to succeed in life; and this can be done only by trying to the fullest extent. Some people feel that they should just give up completely if they "goof" the first time. This certainly isn't the right attitude to take. Everyone has goals in life; and most people make some mistakes before reaching their goals. But, if they just keep trying; someday their goals will be reached.

So stop and think. Do you keep trying, even if you fail the first time? In order to succeed, you have to.

Aaron Tied For Lead in Diego Meet

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round today of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 35-36-1 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal, N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last week.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

Thirty-nine players bettered par in Thursday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Contact Lens Is Found in Cager's Navel

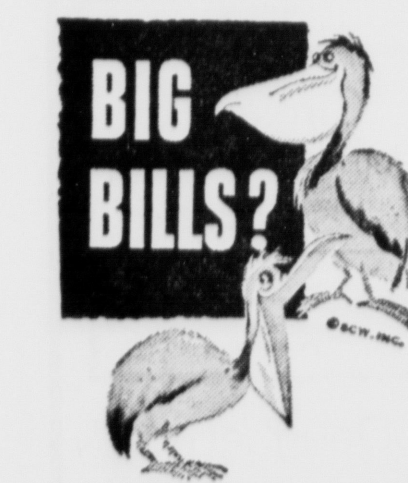

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Take it from the whole Capital University basketball team and especially take it from Gary Walters—the contact lens Tom Koehler lost during the game really did show up in Walters' navel!

It wasn't enough that Capital lost its seventh game in seven Ohio Conference starts, 93-77 to host Ohio Wesleyan Thursday night. Koehler lost the lens once and the game was stopped until it was found. But he lost it again and no one could find it.

In the dressing room after the game, Capital player Bob Miller was nearby as Walters removed his jersey. Look there! said Miller.

There was the contact lens, embedded in Gary's navel. Walters figure it must have popped out of Koehler's eye and slipped down his jersey during the action.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers broke even in their 18 National League games during 1965.

5th-Ranked Bradley Upset On Home Floor by Drake

The old song goes "I wish I was in Peoria." But the Bradley Braves undoubtedly wish Drake had been somewhere else.

Drake, which lost 64-52 to Bradley last Saturday at Des Moines, Iowa, invaded the Illinois home of the fifth-ranked Braves Thursday night and upset them 75-66.

UCLA Pilot Is Named as Top Coach

WASHINGTON (AP)—UCLA's Tommy Prothro didn't have much luck against Duffy Daugherty last fall, but he's 2-0 against the Michigan State coach this year.

The latest victory-edging out Daugherty for Coach of the Year honors Thursday in balloting by the 812 members of the American Football Coaches Association — came as a result of the first win, a 14-12 upset over Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

Prothro began the 1965 season, his first at UCLA after a decade at Oregon State, by losing 13-3 to Daugherty's Spartans.

Michigan State rolled unbeaten the rest of the year and was ranked No. 1 when the two teams next met in the Rose Bowl.

Royals Roar Back To Defeat Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fans in Indianapolis, Ind., saw the Cincinnati Royals in two acts.

The first act was an almost unbelievable one for the Royals — they hit on only 29 per cent of their field goal attempts, fell behind St. Louis by 21 points at one time Thursday night and trailed 63-45 at halftime.

But the second act was different as the stars moved front and center, and the Royals roared home for 107-102 victory over the Hawks to remain just a game behind the first-place Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

There was no other league action.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action, Duke's No. 1 Blue Devils, badly scared before nipping Clemson 87-85 on the road Tuesday, found things more comfortable at home, trouncing Maryland 76-61.

Bradley's defeat was the first at home this season after 10 straight victories and left the Braves at 13-2 over-all and 3-1 in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The Braves, trailing 36-21 at halftime, fought back to tie it at 50-50. But then Harold Jeter hit on a pair of field goals to put Drake ahead to stay. Jeter finished with 21 points.

Brigham Young, held to only 28 points in the first half of its Western Athletic Conference game, rallied in the second half but could get no closer than one point, 66-65, to the Lobos.

Mel Daniels got 23 points and Ben Monroe 22 for New Mexico. Brigham Young, now 10-2, was paced by Dick Nemelka and Steve Kramer with 19 each.

Duke had a fight on its hands for a while at Durham, N.C., before winning its 11th straight for a 12-1 over-all record and a 5-1 Atlantic Coast Conference mark.

With the score tied 35-35 early in the second half, center Mike Lewis got the Blue Devils going with three straight baskets, and Duke raced to a 72-47 advantage. Steve Vacendak hit for 18 for Duke, and Lewis added 17. Gary Ward was high for Maryland with 15.

Tulsa took advantage of Bradley's loss to move into first place in the Missouri Valley with a 3-0 record by edging North Texas State 62-60 at Tulsa, Okla., on Gene Emarée's lay-up with 28 seconds left.

At Shreveport, La., sophomores Elvin Hayes and Don Chaney of Houston became the first Negroes to play on Centenary's court as Houston beat Centenary 108-84. Both fouled out, with Hayes getting 20 points before leaving. Centenary's Tom Kerwin was high man with 34.

In other major games, Detroit sent Notre Dame to its eighth straight defeat, 97-84, in a game at South Bend, Richmond entertained Virginia Military and snapped the Keydets' three-game winning streak, 103-88; visiting Utah nipped Wyoming 93-91 in overtime; New Orleans Loyola bested Memphis State 86-78 at home, and Denver downed Utah State 79-72 on the losers' court.

Sulky Sport Sets Record For Betting

CHICAGO — Harness racing established new national record highs for raceway attendance and pari-mutuel handle in 1965, the United States Trotting Association announced today. Attendance reached an all-time high of 22,893,418, an increase of 6.33 percent over the 21,529,780 mark set in 1964. Wagering totalled $1,363,975,699 as compared to $1,260,516,636 in the previous year, a rise of 8.21 percent.

Walter J. Michael, USTA president, said "the figures clearly reassert the continuing growth of the sport. In addition, early estimates from around the country indicate even greater attendance in prospect for this year."

Admissions at the 335 county fairs which featured harness racing in 34 states are not included in the raceway total. Fair patronage was estimated at close to four million, bringing total national attendance above 26 million, also a new high.

Youngstown Clips Missouri String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Youngstown's sixth - ranked small college basketball team bolstered its status Thursday night with an 83-70 whipping of a Southwest Missouri State club that had won nine in a row. Youngstown now is 10-1.

The game topped a light Ohio schedule on which Ohio Wesley beat Capital 93-77 in the Ohio Conference. Malone stopped Walsh 81-66 in an all-Canton skirmish, Hiram routed Case Tech 86-62 and Rio Grande defeated West Virginia State 90-85.

Buffalo, AFL Stars Await Battle

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The two-time champion Buffalo Bills meet a one-week old All-Star team Saturday in the American Football League's All-Star Bowl — an old game with a new name that closes the season and opens a new chapter in football.

The game, which will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 2 p. m., EST, is a radical departure from the usual post-season All-Star game matching teams from the East and West and thus presents some intriguing situations.

"You've got a highly coordinated team like Buffalo playing against one that's only been together a week," said All-Star Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego in putting his finger on one of the situations created by the new format.

Agreed, admitted Buffalo Coach Joel Collier, but:

"You've got a team like the All-Stars with highly qualified personnel — more qualified than any other All-Star team the league has ever had.

"There is no place you can let up on them."

And those are some of the ingredients which made the AFL decide in favor of the new set-up after four years of East-West battles. Now it will be the champions' pride and coordination against a vast amount of talent from the league's seven other teams.

In addition, this first All-Star Bowl marks the debut of Collier, who succeeded Lou Saban when the AFL Coach of the Year quit for a coaching job at the University of Maryland.

Mysterious Shoulder Ailment Hits Mantle

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious shoulder injury that could curtail his baseball career is a matter of serious concern to New York Yankee baseball star Mickey Mantle.

Contacted at his Dallas home, Mantle said he would go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week for a three-day check-up which will determine his baseball future.

Detroit To Host Top Track Stars

DETROIT (AP)—Pole vaulter John Pennel, broad jumper Ralph Boston and NCAA 440-yard indoor sprint champion Theron Lewis head the field in the first Motor City International track meet at Cobo Arena tonight.

Pennel broke the National Indoor pole vault record last week when he cleared the bar at 16 feet, 7½ inches.

John Thomas, the Olympic medalist in 1960 and 1964, also is entered in the AAU-sponsored event along with more than a dozen former Olympic team competitors from the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

quarterback Jack Kemp, the league's Most Valuable Player, running backs Wray Carlton and Billy Joe and receivers such as Bo Roberson, Paul Costa and either Ernie Warlick or Ed Rutkowski.

But Collier will have problems Saban probably never imagined — such as an All-Star offensive front four made up of Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd of San Diego and Kansas City's Buck Buchanan and Jerry Mays, a quartet that averages 6-foot-6 and 278 pounds.

The Bills also will have to contend with an All-Star offense that includes the league's No. 1 and 3 passers, San Diego's John Hadl and New York's Joe Namath, and the league's top three rushers, San Diego's Paul Lowe, Detroit's George Slaughter and Oakland's Clem Daniels. In addition, Gillman has the other half of his San Diego running back combination, Keith Lincoln.

Saddle Club Meets at Bennett Home

Ralph Starkey was appointed to head the membership drive and Sterling Poling was nominated as a representative to the Tri-State Horse Assn. when the Pickaway Saddle and Bridle Club met this week at the home of president E. R. Bennett, Knollwood Village.

The meeting was opened by the president Bennett. The minutes were read by recording secretary Susan Le Valley.

The dates of the popular annual Kiwanis Charity Horse Show have been set for May 28 and 29 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Tentative plans were made for an open house to be held by the club in March. The latest horse movies will be shown at this time.

Club members and friends are planning to attend the Lexington Junior League Charity Horse Show to be held in Lexington, Ky., in June.

The next meeting will be February 9 at the Bennett Realty offices on E. Main St.

Aaron Tied For Lead in Diego Meet

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 36-1 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal. N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last week.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

Thirty-nine players bettered par in Thursday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Contact Lens Is Found in Cager's Navel

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Take it from the whole Capital University basketball team and especially take it from Gary Walters—the contact lens Tom Koehler lost during the game really did show up in Walters' navel!

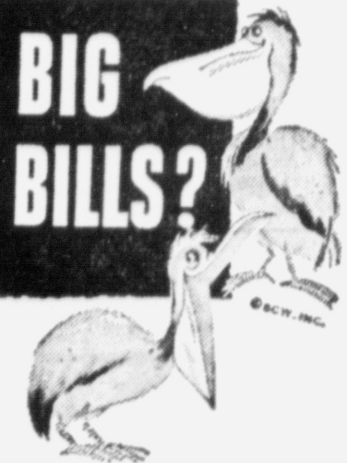

It wasn't enough that Capital lost its seventh game in seven Ohio Conference starts, 93-77 to host Ohio Wesleyan Thursday night. Koehler lost the lens once and the game was stopped until it was found. But he lost it again and no one could find it.

In the dressing room after the game, Capital player Bob Miller was nearby as Walters removed his jersey. Look there! said Miller.

There was the contact lens, embedded in Gary's navel.

Walters figure it must have popped out of Koehler's eye and slipped down his jersey during the action.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers broke even in their 18 National League games during 1965.

5th-Ranked Bradley Upset On Home Floor by Drake

The old song goes "I wish I was in Peoria." But the Bradley Braves undoubtedly wish Drake had been somewhere else.

Drake, which lost 64-52 to Bradley last Saturday at Des Moines, Iowa, invaded the Illinois home of the fifth-ranked Braves Thursday night and upset them 75-66.

Brigham Young, No. 7 in The Associated Press poll, also came a cropper, bowing 81-78 to New Mexico at Albuquerque, N.M.

UCLA Pilot Is Named as Top Coach

WASHINGTON (AP)—UCLA's Tommy Prothro didn't have much luck against Duffy Daugherty last fall, but he's 2-0 against the Michigan State coach this year.

The latest victory-edging out Daugherty for Coach of the Year honors Thursday in balloting by the 812 members of the American Football Coaches Association — came as a result of the first win, a 14-12 upset over Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

Prothro began the 1965 season, his first at UCLA after a decade at Oregon State, by losing 13-3 to Daugherty's Spartans.

Michigan State rolled unbeaten the rest of the year and was ranked No. 1 when the two teams next met in the Rose Bowl.

Approval Seen Assured For Negro Cabinet Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Weaver appears likely to have an easier task winning Senate approval as the first Negro member of the Cabinet than he did in 1961 as housing administrator.

President Johnson announced Thursday he would nominate Weaver as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Weaver, 58, has been acting head of the new department since its formal creation in November. As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he has directed the agencies now under the new Cabinet department.

Johnson said he would name Robert C. Wood, 42, chairman of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as undersecretary of the new department. Wood headed a task force that advised Johnson on its organization and functions.

"I am very proud of this team," Johnson said.

The nominations were scheduled to go to the Senate today.

The new department — the 11th in the Cabinet — has under its wing the Federal Housing Administration, the Public Housing Administration, the Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration.

Johnson said no decision has been made on a reported proposal by Wood's task force to move the community action part of the administration's antipoverty program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the new department.

Senators, including some Southerners, generally expressed approval of Weaver's appointment. And two Negro leaders promptly applauded Johnson's announcement.

"Congratulations and deep thanks for your history-making appointment," wired Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Whitney Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, said of the appointment: "It will become a model to inspire and motivate the Negro youth in today's society."

Early Senate approval of the two nominees seemed likely. Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the Senate Banking Committee which he heads will hold confirmation hearings Monday. He described Weaver as an able man. He said "I don't anticipate any trouble."

Robertson was one of the four senators voting against Weaver in the committee in 1961. The full Senate confirmed Weaver by voice vote.

When nominated to head the housing agency, Weaver ran into more opposition than any other nominee of President John F. Kennedy. And when Kennedy proposed creation of an urban affairs department and indicated Weaver would head it, there was strong Southern opposition and the move was defeated.

Reminded of his opposition, Robertson said, "I know, I thought he was going to be prejudiced." He said he had seen "no evidence of any prejudice" in Weaver's operation of HHFA.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, ranking Republican member of the committee who also opposed Weaver in 1961, said it was the President's prerogative to select his own Cabinet members, adding, "I don't know of any effort to block Weaver."

The other two negative votes in 1961 came from Sens. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., and William A. Blakley, D-Tex.

In Huntsville, Ala., Sparkman said Weaver has done "a good job" in his present post but that he would await the appointment's testimony before deciding whether he will vote to confirm him.

Blakley was defeated later by

Business Briefs

Goeglein Thomas Supply Co., 323 E. Main St., has been accepted as the Pickaway County dealer for Genie garage door operators.

The Alliance Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated Electronics Industries Corp., is the producer of the complete line of Genie garage door operators.

As a stocking dealer, Goeglein-Thomas Supply will have a complete line of residential and commercial operators available to the Circleville and Pickaway County area.

Automatic automobile operated radio controls are used on all models. Complete service facilities will be maintained for all operators sold by the local firm.

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—Owens-Illinois, Inc., will spend $500 million on capital improvements within the next five years, an official of the firm said Thursday.

R. H. Mulford, president of the container firm, said the projected expenditures for new plants and additions, plus improvements to the company's 77 existing domestic plants and 16 foreign facilities will almost double the amount the firm has spent since 1959 in similar manner.

Owens-Illinois research and development expenditures of approximately $25 million planned for 1966 are more than double the amount spent seven years ago, he added.

Ezell asked, "Who's there?" "Parcel post, ma'am," came the reply.

Behind Miss Ezell stood three veteran Beverly Hills policemen: Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning. They were armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

Egger motioned Miss Ezell out of the room. Then he reached for the knob and jerked open the door.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said later. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

It was all over in two shotgun blasts and three pistol shots.

Bailey's wallet contained a hundred-dollar bill and a cryptic note that may have indicated the high stakes the two gunmen were aiming for. On a fragment of blue paper were written the calculations: 200,000 times 10 equals 2,000,000 and 20 times 400,000 equals 8,000,000.

Police theorized that Bailey and Scalla may have been aiming for ransom in the millions.

Also in Bailey's wallet was a slip of paper on which was written Firestone's telephone number. In the car were another

Foes of Racial Housing Law Shelve Ballot Move

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Principal opponents of Ohio's new law banning racial discrimination in housing have put to rest plans for an immediate effort to repeal it on a statewide ballot.

Trustees of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards announced the decision Thursday but at the same time said they will pursue another course of action against the law.

They plan to initiate a public opinion poll and to continue research on the law's constitutionality. They also plan to wait court developments in a California housing issue that may wind up before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Last year, California voters repealed a law similar to Ohio's but the repealer has been taken into the courts by challengers who maintain it deprives California Negroes of rights guaranteed in the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The Ohio group called in a resolution for "continued research to be maintained on the court actions on the California issue; also that a continued study of the actions of the Congress and the Federal Supreme Court be maintained."

Trustees announced their unanimous vote approving recommendations of the group's legislative committee following a secret mail poll last month among the 75 local real estate boards.

They declined to disclose results of the poll, but it was reported unofficially that boards in some of Ohio's larger cities opposed a ballot campaign at this time.

It has been estimated that a campaign chest up to $500,000 would be needed to obtain the 311,000 electors' signatures needed to place the issue on the ballot.

In addition, it has been noted that placing such a controversial matter on the ballot in an election year may not be to the liking of political candidates.

A spokesman said the Homebuilders "don't like" the law but will try to educate members about it and live with it. The homebuilders emphasized however, that they may decide to take some course of action later.

The new statute became effective Oct. 30.

Pumpkin Show Group Names Officer Slate

Ned Harden Wins Vice Presidency By Flip of Coin

Pumpkin Show Inc. conducted its annual organizational meeting this week in the group's offices in the Masonic Temple.

The only change in the slate of officers was that of the vice presidency. Ned W. Harden, 146 Park Place, was voted into the office replacing James P. Shea.

A tie vote of 5-5 for the VP post was broken by the flip of a coin and Harden was elected.

Other officers re-elected for the year were Mayor Ben H. Gordon, who serves as president by virtue of his office; Ned H. Dresbach, secretary; and Roy C. Marshall, treasurer.

DRESBACH noted today that two vacancies on the board of directors will be filled at the February meeting of the organization.

The officers and board are in the process of compiling material for a new brochure advertising the annual fall festival. The new booklet is expected to take shape within the next couple of months, according to Dresbach.

Ten pulpwood producers in Southeastern Ohio are now wearing gold colored aluminum safety caps as a token of recognition for their 1965 production records.

The gold hats were awarded by the Timber Division of Container Corporation of America at its Circleville mill. The 10 producers are independent businessmen who buy standing timber from landowners, harvest it and sell pulpwood to the company for manufacture into paper.

Awarded the hats were: Robert Tripp, Zaleski; Coshel Caudill, Dundas; Gerald Noble, Route 4, Circleville; John Craig, Route 1, Glouster; Hollie Hamilton, Route 2, Beaver; Earl Spriggs, Portsmouth; Harold Holbrook, Route 1, Laurelville; Harold Stump, Route 1, Rockbridge; John Gillem, Route 2, Beaver; Owen McNichols, Route 1, South Bloomingville.
